170,000 IDLE IN SOUND CITY; "SHOOT ON SIGHT," IS ORDER OF MAYOR FOR EMERGENCIES

Executive Declares Strikers Will Not Be Permitted to Interfere With Government; Cars Are Stopped and Many Restaurants Closed

SCHOOLS MAY NOT BE KEPT OPEN; STORES CRIPPLED

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Sending of troops from Camp Lewis to Seattle was authorized by Secretary Baker after he had been advised by the governor of Washington of the situation here due to a general strike. The commandant was directed to furnish whatever military assistance and protection the state authorities might request.

TACOMA, Feb. 6.—Under command of Major-General John L. Hayden, 800 soldiers left Camp Lewis shortly after 1 o'clock today for Seattle, it was announced.

The soldiers were accompanied by thirty trucks carrying provisions and ammunition; it was also announced.

Camp officials stated that the men would be placed in Seattle to "stand ready for any emergency."

Demobilization at Camp Lewis halted today under orders from Major-General Joseph Leitch. Bus lines operating between Tacoma and Camp Lewis were ordered commandeered and soldiers were placed in charge of the operation. Passes to soldiers wishing to go to Seattle were denied.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 6.—Seventy thousand union men are idle in Seattle and 100,000 other workers have been thrown out of employment here following the walkout of 95 per cent of the men affiliated with the Central Labor Council at 10 o'clock this morning.

Desultory business is being carried on in a few scattered business establishments and restaurants. Street cars are stopped, but telephone service and electric power are obtainable as the result of the efforts of voluntary electrical workers who answered an appeal issued by the mayor.

Labor's own police force of 200 former service men is patrolling the streets in addition to 1000 extra city policemen sworn in this morning. There have been no disturbances up to noon today. The general strike called by the Central Labor Council at the request of the Metal Trades Council is a decided success, union leaders declare.

GENERAL STRIKE ON SCHEDULED TIME
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 6.—Seattle's general strike was called at the scheduled time, 10 a.m. today. First reports from the downtown section said union street car men started their cars for the burn at 10 o'clock, union elevator operators in all the large buildings abandoned their cars and restaurants closed their doors when their union cooks and waiters left.

Union labor leaders declared that virtually 55,000 union members are out. This number includes the 23,000 who walked out of the shipyards January 21. The general strike was the first ever called in the United States.

"Any man who attempts to take over control of municipal government functions here will be shot on sight," Mayor Ole Hanson declared when told of the statement of Senator Thomas of Colorado that strikers had taken over certain government functions.

"Strikers have not taken over government functions in Seattle," the mayor said. "They will not be allowed to take over any government functions, despite their published statements, that they intend to operate the light, power and heat police of the city. The seat of city government is still at the city hall."

STORES TO BE OPEN UNTIL STOCKS DEPLETED.

Most of the city stores announced they would remain open as long as their stocks last. When their shelves are empty they will be unable to replenish them, as the truck drivers were among the strikers.

Telephone operators remained at their posts, according to reports. Seattle expects to have lights tonight, as the strike committee of the Central Labor Council last night voted to exempt from the strike the engineers in the municipal lighting plant.

Schools may be forced to close by the strike of teachers and engineers, the office of the superintendent of schools stated. Moving picture houses may not open, it is believed, as they will be crippled by the strike of operators and musicians.

Today's general walk-out, was called by the Seattle Central Labor Council, as a sympathetic move to help shipyard workers, who, numbering 25,000, close the big Seattle shipyards by striking January 21 for higher pay.

STRIKE IS CALLED IN SYNPATY WITH OTHERS.

The shipyard workers who are affiliated with the Metal Trades Council, asked that mechanics be paid $5 a day and helpers and laborers $7 and $6 a day. The Metal Trades members made their demands when

GENERAL STRIKE FAILURE; TACOMA LABORERS BALK

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

TACOMA, Feb. 6.—Street car employees walked out this afternoon. At 2 p.m. hardly a car was moving down town. At headquarters of the carmen it was stated authority to go out had been given by the international.

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 6.—At 10 o'clock this morning the members of four crafts affiliated with the Oakland Boilermakers Union quit work in most of the yards in an effort to enforce a wage increase of from $4.64 to $4.80 a day and recognition of their demand to be classed as full-fledged mechanics instead of mechanics' helpers and the like.

The decision of the walk-out is to force partial inertia on five shipbuilding plants of the Pacific district, and the probability that complete idleness will follow within a few days unless the demands of the men are granted or they rescind their threat.

These foyers were manned by military drivers. It is estimated that they will be able to carry 250,000 persons daily. No fare is charged, and particular attention is paid to working women and girls.

Only bona fide workers on their way to work are picked up by the military drivers.

The strike follows a vote taken last night by the plate hangers, signalmen and hook tenders, drillers and seamers, burners or welders and plate shopmen crafts of the Boilermakers' Union. Approximately 1000 men are already idle, and unless the demand is settled immediately all of the shipworkers in the Eastbay district will be idle within a few days, as the plants cannot for long be operated without the labor of the striking employees.

The members of the Allied Printing Trades' unions adhered to the demand of their international officers who voted them against joining in an unсанctioned strike.

The Central Labor Council has authority to call a general strike but that they are to be governed by the instructions of the international unions.

Barbers announced they closed for one day and called it a holiday. About 5 per cent of the retail clerks did the same.

It is stated that the linemen and operators who operate the city light and power plants, stated that they would fight, if necessary, to retain their jobs.

The street car men informed George W. Rounds of the Tacoma Railway and Power company that they would keep the cars running.

The members of the Allied Printing Trades' unions adhered to the demand of their international officers who voted them against joining in an unсанctioned strike.

The Central Labor Council has authority to call a general strike but that they are to be governed by the instructions of the international unions.

They announced they were dissatisfied with the findings of a federal wage adjustment commission known as the Macy board.

Charles Plez, director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, was told by the Seattle Journal of Commerce, that the Seattle shipyard workers, in striking, had disregarded a pledge they made with the government that they would remain under the jurisdiction of the Macy board until March 31.

SEATTLE READY TO HANDLE SITUATION.

Seattle was ready for the strike, it was said. For several days residents have been purchasing large stocks of groceries and autoists have been storing away gallons of gasoline and oil. Most of the service stations had no gasoline and oil today and closed their doors.

All the newspapers announced they would not appear after the strike hour. The papers were crippled by the walkout of the newsboys, newsboys on trucks drivers who had the papers to points about the city. The Times announced it would not resume publication until every union man has returned to his post.

PRACTICALLY ALL RESTAURANTS CLOSE

SEATTLE, Feb. 6.—Practically all restaurants closed this morning, even before the strike hour. The unions plan to run fifteen public eating houses, where the general public as well as the strikers will be given meals at stated times at small cost.

The strike affects approximately 10,000 workers directly. Of these 30,000 are shipyard workers and the others are sympathy strikers.

Major Hanson is prepared to swear in 10,000 policemen to maintain order if necessary, he declared today. Extra details of police have been called to duty and it is reported that details from the army cantonment at Camp Lewis and from the Bremerton navy yard and the university training station are present should the emergency arise.

Schools may be forced to close by the strike of teachers and engineers, the office of the superintendent of schools stated. Moving picture houses may not open, it is believed, as they will be crippled by the strike of operators and musicians.

PRESIDENT TO MAKE SECOND TRIP TO PARIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—President Wilson will be on his way back to Paris within one month from the time he comes back to America, about February 24, unless an effective League of Nations is soundly established in the meantime.

This was learned from an authoritative source today, together with more details of his probable plans while in America. Administration officials let it be understood, however, that the President's future course is entirely centered in what he considers the topmost importance in world legislation just now, the League of Nations.

The President land in New York on February 24, as is now contemplated, he will very probably deliver there the first of a series of addresses he is to make in different parts of the country, taking the people into his confidence and explaining for the first time his own interpretation of the peace terms and what may be expected of the peace conference.

Immediately after delivering this address he will return to Washington and very likely address a joint session of the retiring Congress and make a detailed report of his negotiations with the representatives of the great powers.

Whether he will then make a tour of the large centers of the country will depend almost entirely on the necessity of immediate and intimate communication with Paris. But even should it be necessary for him to remain in Washington the entire time of his stay in America, it is known he will issue numerous statements, each intended as an address to the people.

BRYAN URGES PLAN FOR RY. REGULATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Restriction of government ownership of railroads and trunk lines that will reach all parts of the country was advocated by William J. Bryan before the rivers and harbors congress today.

Bryan said that such a plan would give every State an outlet for its products without prejudice and by competition would regulate rates all over the country.

"Such a system would effectively regulate interstate commerce," Bryan said. "And yet would cost but a small sum compared with the nationalization of all railroads. With bonded debt of $16,000,000,000, which may rise to $25,000,000,000, the people would hardly be willing to pay twenty billions more to pay for all the railroads. The system I propose would also meet no objections made to the establishment of a gigantic bureau at Washington with its political possibilities."

"This plan with the government trunk lines open to all would make each State independent in regard to the railroads within its borders, the government can easily enter into this partial nationalization by appointing a committee to investigate its advisability and reporting before the time for the roads to be returned."

TAFT SPEAKS FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—With more than 5000 delegates registered, the Atlantic congress for league of nations began a two-day session here yesterday. The congress is under the auspices of the League to enforce peace. It is the first of a series of nine congresses to be held this month throughout the country.

To assure the formation of "strong" league of nations and the acceptance of such a league by the United States Senate, it was announced that plans will be outlined at these congresses for an intensive campaign reaching every city and town in the country.

Ex-President William H. Taft, as president of the league to enforce peace, called the congress to order and delivered the keynote address. Taft said that if the purpose of the war is to be achieved a league like that contemplated in the league of nations is indispensable.

"The idea of a League of Nations is unconditioned," said Taft, "and those who won are going to dictate the treaty of peace. The purpose of the war must be measured by the purpose of Germany."

The purpose of Germany under forty years of preparation and a philosophy vicious in every way, was to establish in the world power of God before the world power of force.

"The idea of a League of Nations," according to the speaker, "has been the cure of the German people from a horrible philosophy, which reached its fruition in Germany's atrocious conduct of the war."

"But we are only half way through with that cure," Taft said. "We have hit them over the head with a club, but we have got to hold that club over them as a guarantee that the cure will be durable and wholesome."

"Italy, I am glad to say, leads the whole world in the relative height of its war debt," he said. "Subtracting Italy's losses in men and money her national wealth is only about $20,000,000,000. If all the war loans

ITALY'S WAR BILL BIGGEST OF ALL

PRESIDENT IS CRITICISED ON BIG NAVY BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Consideration by the House of the annual naval construction bill, which will forth more criticism of President Wilson, some members asserting he was endeavoring to force the authorization of a new three-year building program without taking Congress into his confidence as to events at Paris which made such legislation necessary at this time.

Discussion along this line followed yesterday by Chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, who received directly from only one member, Representative Little of Kansas, a Republican, who declared the construction would add to the country's financial burdens "at a time when we have no enemy in the world."

Representative Graham of Illinois, Republican, declaring a desire of the navy, said that new program was "not extraordinary," and asserted that in voting for the expansion it would be humiliating to him if it appeared that he did so "by the whip and spur that are being administered by the President." He referred to a message sent by the President to Secretary Daniels insisting on the three-year program and which was the subject of debate in the House yesterday.

"It has been a source of extreme humiliation, believing as I do in a large navy, to see coming into our counsels this covert threat which has been sent to us by the President, under which, I believe a majority of this House today is acting."

"We have a report that was induced by some threat or statement of information sent by the President which you and I, as representatives of a people, can't afford to take advantage of, but which we must under or be perhaps put under the ban of being against the administration in the carrying out of his policy. It is an unfair advantage to this House, to the country, and one that is not justifiable in the light of the President's stand for open co-operation arrived at."

The only information we have is a little comment that comes to us once a day. That tells us somebody has done something, but gives us no information, and nothing more do we know. Even the information under which we are called upon to pass this legislation is whispered by the secretary of the navy to the chairman of the naval committee, and in turn whispered by him to his committee, and we are expected to sit here like bumpers on a log and vote without knowing what we are voting for."

Beauty Talks
at Osgood's
Very Popular

Mons. Doriot's representatives who are giving talks before the public at Osgood's big store, 14th and Washington, are receiving so many mail inquiries from ladies who cannot call in person in regard to Dekline, they find it expedient to send out a booklet which describes what it does. This new product of Mons. Doriot's laboratory is entirely different and vastly superior to any other liquid lotion. It is not dry to the skin as are most liquids and while it is used in delicate gowns for the face, neck and arms, there are also shades which are indispensable for protecting the skin from wind, tan and sunburn. And, as it is applied before motoring, golfing and exposure, its use makes the skin clear and soft. A velvety texture. It is a truly remarkable beauty lotion and gives the user a smooth, soft, glowing complexion rather than highly "mineralized." It is not an enamel nor is it strictly speaking a liquid powder. Mons. Doriot's applies it correctly as a lotion for emanating natural beauty. Absolutely harmless as it contains no injurious chemicals. Very soothing and healing to delicate and tender skins. Osgood's will be glad to mail you a full article on Dekline on receipt of 50 cents postage. Please call in person if possible and talk with the Doriot experts on any subject relating to facial beauty. They are in residence from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. The price over counter is $1.25. The rest of his time is taken up with his beauty lectures to society women in one of the large hotels in San Francisco. For reference save this advertisement.—Advertisement.

MAGNESITE MINES AGAIN IN LITIGATION

$60 For Each Nurse and Soldier
Giant Revenue Bill Is Now Ready
Travel Is Penalized 8 Per Cent

By L. C. MARTIN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The conference report on America's six million dollar war revenue bill—greatest in this nation's history—was presented to the house today by Chairman Kitchin of the ways and means committee.

In addition to raising about $6,000,000 in taxes, the bill gives every soldier, sailor, marine and all women nurses in the American forces a bonus of $60 upon discharge. This means an appropriation of more than $400,000,000.

Following are the chief provisions of the bill:

Income tax on individuals.

The normal income tax for 1918 is 6 per cent on incomes up to $4,000, and 12 per cent on higher incomes. After 1918 the normal is 4 per cent on incomes up to $4,000 and 8 per cent on those over $4,000. The present normal is 4 per cent.

Exemptions of $1,000 for a single person and $2,000 for a married one with $200 additional for each dependent under 18, remains as at present.

SURTAX ON INCOMES.

The income surtax rates begin at one per cent on incomes of $5,000 to $8,000 and run to 65 per cent on incomes over $100,000.

Present surtax rates are lower on the middle and higher incomes, the highest rate in the present law being 56 per cent.

Partnerships and public service corporations may pay the tax as individuals, not as corporations.

The corporation income tax for 1918 is 12 per cent and thereafter 10 per cent. The present rate is 6 per cent.

Special provision is made for corporations owning oil or gas wells or mines. Because of the hazards and the rapid depletion, a special deduction for development for development work done upon land that did not belong to the company, $400 for driving a tunnel upon property that did not belong to the company, $100 for drilling, $400 for surveys, $300 for geologists, etc., $100 for man by the name of Maxwell, who had paid only 60 per cent of the value of that ore. The stockholders represented by Mr. Spinks demanded the immediate return of the property to the company.

LITIGATION STOPS WORK.

The history of the magnesite mines in question have been one of financial rottedness. At different times more than $100,000,000 worth of magnesite has been spent in developing this property and trying to get the magnesite on the market, but whenever a demand for magnesite occurred, as during the war, litigation stepped in and prevented the realization of the dreams of wealth of the promoters.

The last hearing has been on before Judge Murasky for all of the present week.

ANOTHER VIEW ON RAIL PROBLEM.

Mr. Walker D. Hines, successor to Mr. William G. McAdoo as director-general of railroads, is opposed to the resolution introduced by Senator Cummings requiring the government to restore the railroads to their private owners twenty-one months after the formal declaration of peace and not before. His opinion is that the government could not get very far with its plans for the railroads within that period. He favors either the retention of the railroads by the government for a longer period, three or five years, or their surrender forthwith.

Mr. Hines is a practical railroad man. He has occupied important administrative positions in railroad systems. He is a lawyer and knows the legal and financial phases of the railroad business. His word will carry weight with railroad men and the holders of shares in railroad corporations. It is interesting to observe, therefore, that Mr. Hines scorns the idea that to return the railroads to the private operators immediately would result in chaos and financial loss to the utilities. "We can only assume a chaotic condition," he says, "by assuming that the Interstate Commerce Commission would omit to perform its functions." He sees no reason whatever why control should be continued simply for protecting the roads from a chaotic condition which does not exist and which he does not believe will exist.

The motive in his urging continuation of government control for a longer period is to see carefully designed legislation for the future regulation of the railroads enacted before government control is relinquished. But it is not essential to the integrity of the railroad system that this should be done. The legislation could come after relinquishment as well as before.

If the roads are restored to private ownership in the near future Congress would undoubtedly turn back to the record of the joint congressional committee—the Newlands committee—which had been in session two years when the war and government control caused a suspension of its hearings. This committee had accomplished a great deal toward ascertaining the exact status of the railroads and the policies and views of the several State railroad commissions. This information, combined with the experience of the war and the record of federal operation and the experience and record of the Interstate Commerce Commission, would provide a very broad and stable basis on which to erect new regulatory machinery.

There is no occasion to despair, if the stout opposition to the proposed extension of the period of government control continues and it becomes necessary to give the railroads back to their owners, the Interstate Commerce Commission has ample powers to control the railroads until new laws are enacted. There is no danger, according to Mr. Hines, that the roads would plunge into financial disaster if abandoned by the government. To restore the roads at once would really be the only way to allay the fear that they will become wedded to politics.

ANOTHER REBUKE.

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Morse said six weeks ago that he intended to make it impossible for gambling, social vice and other conduct in violation of the laws and ordinances to exist in Oakland. Thereupon THE TRIBUNE praised the commissioner for his announced policy and pointed out that the residents were withholding public commendation only until they could ascertain whether Mr. Morse would change his mind.

Yesterday an army officer announced that unless the laws against the sale of liquors to soldiers and the vice situation is cleaned up by Saturday night the commanding general of the Western Department of the army will declare Oakland a barred zone for men in uniform. The officer stated that this drastic action is planned as a result of an attack by a crowd of civilian rowdies on two members of the military provost guard who had arrested an intoxicated soldier. He charged that the police department had failed to give any assistance in this affair, two uniformed members of the department standing by and witnessing the disorder without any effort to aid the military police.

In the six weeks intervening referred to above, the police commissioner has done nothing, so far as the public is informed, but to announce that he was pursuing "investigations." The only action observable has been by the federal authorities in arresting and bringing to trial alleged offenders who had operated under the eyes and with the complete knowledge of the local police. This is not exactly true. Some members of the police department have given a "good character" to defendants in the federal court. And there has been an ugly quarrel between two members of the police department, one that would never be tolerated in any self-respecting city government.

The indictment against this city contained in the threat of the army officer is wholly unjustified and undeserved. Oakland is as "clean" as any city in the country. Soldiers and sailors have been and are as safe here as any place else. But what arouses the ire of the army authorities is that the local police department fails in its obvious duty. It does not do what it could do easily.

It is a sad state of affairs when a branch of the city government, designed and supported for the sole purpose of protecting the good name of the community by enforcement of the laws and regulations, consistently exposes the community to undeserved reproach and unnecessary chagrin. And when the situation is so sharply called to the attention of the police commissioner as indicated above the best that is forthcoming is not action, but another promise that there will be a "change."

Secretary of War Baker states there will be a job for every discharged soldier. This ought to be true, and it is sincerely to be hoped that it will prove true. But then the people must remember that Secretary Baker said in February, 1918, that airplanes were being produced in quantity and shipped to Europe, whereas the first combatant planes did not arrive until several months later and quantity production had not been attained when the armistice was signed; that he said on an earlier occasion that there was no difference between the Villa bandits and the soldiers of the American revolution. Therefore his promises of jobs for soldiers and his simulation of high regard for them will be accepted with reserve.

There is a vein of sarcasm in Connecticut, disclosed in a recent report of the department of Labor. It is declared that the state has progressed quite a ways from the blue laws of 1750, which permitted the correction of youthful offenders by cutting off their ears, but that as much distance has not been covered as guilty might and ought to have been. There is great hope for a commonwealth that will admit as much as that.

The story is interesting about that carload of compromising documents which was inadvertently sidetracked when the Germans were getting out of Belgium and fell into the hands of the Belgians. As the documents include definite plans for carrying off most of Belgium's machinery and destroying the remainder, they will be a considerable documentary help in fixing that detail of the indemnity.

The remedy which justice would seem to demand is evident. Whatever of value has been carried into Germany should be immediately brought back and replaced. The reconstruction of houses, factories and other edifices should then be speedily brought to completion by German workmen at Germany's expense, aided by those natives who for the time being have no other employment, all their labor to be paid for by Germany. So far as the German shipyards can replace the tonnage destroyed, they should be at once employed for the purpose; and only such ships should be allowed for German trade as may be necessary for the distribution of Germany's just proportion of overseas commerce. The other forms of indemnity would not be cancelled by this process of restoration; but the liquidation of these obligations might be ultimately accomplished by the saving of all expense for military purposes beyond mere domestic police duty in Germany, by special import licenses on German goods, and by the appropriation of a percentage of the profits of Germany's coal and potash mines.

This would be undoubtedly a heavy burden for a conquered people to bear; but it is less than it was the German purpose to impose upon the innocent victims of their imperial schemes of conquest.—David Jayne Hill in the North American Review.

STATE HOME FOR GIRLS IS UNDER PROBE

Members of the state board of charities and correction gathered in session in San Francisco today to begin their investigation into the charges of cruelty and mismanagement made against the State Home for Girls at Ventura.

Voluminous testimony covering more than 547 typewritten pages has been submitted for consideration. It is expected that the board will not reach a decision in the case until Monday. The testimony was obtained mostly from present and former employees of the institution, particularly from Mrs. C. M. Wyman, superintendent.

The personnel of the state board in session here includes:

In a statement issued this morning Pendleton said:

"It is the earnest desire of the board to obtain an equitable adjudication in the matter. It is a very difficult matter to decide since there is much personal animosity and bitterness on both sides which has crept into the testimony now in our home."

The investigation has resulted from charges chiefly directed against the superintendent, Mrs. Wyman, by Mrs. Nellie Brewster Pierce, an attorney of Los Angeles.

Briefly, it is alleged that "cruel and unusual punishment" was practiced at the Ventura home, including the use of the shower bath; that there was no proper education provided for the girls; that the girls did not receive proper physical care and that the conduct of the school in general was of a penal rather than a reformatory character.

Capital to Sue to Get Back Officials

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6.—Legal action to compel the return of Sacramento of all the city officers and commissioners who have established their headquarters in other cities than the "seat of government" in violation of the statutes of the state, was authorized today by the Sacramento City Commission. The action will affect about a score of state officials and commissioners, the city commissioners said.

Secretary Baker declared there would be a job for every man who wore the uniform of the United States in the great war. If he wanted it, and advocated that immediate authority be given for needed improvements in rivers and harbor facilities as far as means, not only of building up the prosperity of the country but also of opening employment to men leaving the service.

MRS. MARTHA FALCONER

Liquor Responsible for Many Offenses Against Moral Code.

"Women should have fewer and better children," said Mrs. Martha Falconer, superintendent of a Pennsylvania home for delinquent girls. "Women should not bear more children than they can properly care for."

In a speech before the Manufacturers' Association at the Hotel Oakland yesterday, Mrs. Falconer made a strong plea for the legislative bill now pending calling for an incorporation for the Industrial Home for Women in California.

Hat offenders against the moral code are directly or indirectly influenced by liquor, said Mrs. Falconer.

She declared that a segregated district never segregates, and the attempt to abolish it is an attempt to minimize the evil and to do away with commercialized vice as a thing sanctioned by an enlightened people; that any place where women are exploited by men should not be allowed to exist notwithstanding the fact that at the present time there is no place for the women to go except into the residence district of the city—total eradication of the social evil must come through years of education.

"If the social evil is a necessary thing," she said, "then prepare for it—but public opinion moulded by eminent physicians throughout the country, is rapidly changing on that subject, and it is a fact that it is not a necessary thing—so why tolerate it?"

Luxembourg to Vote On Government Form

LUXEMBOURG, Feb. 6.—The council of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg has introduced in the chamber of deputies a bill providing for a vote of the people to decide whether the people of the Grand Duchy wish to change the form of government to that of a republic.

MULLALLY IS ADVOCATE OF U.S. TRAINING

Compulsory universal military training in America was advocated as a result of his observations abroad by Colonel Thornwell Mullally, commander of the 144th Field Artillery, the California regiment best known as the "Grizzlies." In a speech before the Rotary Club at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland today.

"Among the lessons America is to learn from the war," he said, "is, in my opinion, compulsory universal military training. This we should have in order to prevent war. Furthermore, this is estimable both to the young men of our country in physical and mental training, in discipline and in learning to obey and command."

Colonel Mullally said the American Army was the deciding factor of the war, and at the time of the armistice it had the Germans so badly on the run that in another week a half million would have been captured.

"This statement is not mine alone," he said. "It was made to me by no less an authority than Major-General Liggett in reference to the drama of the American war up along the Meuse river. The bodies had to have that armistice and have it right away, just as a prize fighter need the gong to prevent being knocked out."

WHAT AMERICANS DID.

In part he said:

"American business methods have worked miracles. The transportation of troops and supplies in this country was in itself a big job and there are literally miles of docks at Bordeaux filled by Americans. The French said it would take several years to build them. The Americans built them in four months. The handling of troops and supplies of every description, everything from a locomotive to a needle, is a triumph of real efficiency methods. Hundreds of railroads in France were built up and are maintained by Americans. The work of moving hundreds of thousands of troops and an infinite amount of ammunition and supplies up to the front in a prompt and orderly manner is almost incomprehensible. Yet it was all done so that there was never a delay, hitch or complaint."

"As Californians you may well be proud of the Californians who comprise the 144th Field Artillery. They made and took advantage of every opportunity. They made brilliant record in all they had to do. I have said we do not know what we deserve all you have done for us. This is because these men to have done less would have been beneath them, in the number of vehicles sold and in its artistic beauty."

The ten-day display will be open daily from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 o'clock at night. The doors this evening will open at 6 o'clock.

Manager George Wahlgren last night announced that everything was in readiness.

Auto Show to Open in S. F. Tonight

Thousands of Visitors Are Expected

Big Display of Cars Now Ready

San Francisco's third annual Pacific Automobile Show will open tonight in all its colorful beauty.

Renowned in speed and typical of American sports, elaborate display will be revealed to the public at the Civic Auditorium.

With the auditorium transformed into a fairland, and the hundreds of motor cars presented in elaborate array, San Francisco and Oakland motordom will attend the opening tonight en masse for the greatest event of its character ever staged in California.

The entire auditorium has been taken over for the presentation. On the main floors all the various types of passenger vehicles are located in the basement, trucks and tractors, while on the mezzanine floor are the accessory exhibitors.

Motorists in the bay cities are enthusiastic for the opening. But they are no more jubilant than the dealers who will offer their vehicles to inspection.

SURPRISES IN STORE.

There will be many surprises in store for the motorwise. Improvement in body designs and motor construction which was achieved when the great automobile factories were engaged in war work for the government will be exhibited.

San Francisco's first for the season surpasses the big successes of the last two years. One hundred thousand spectators was the total for the period of the display in 1918.

While the exhibition will be open to the public for ten days and nights, for tonight as the opening event a record crowd is anticipated.

Special features have been planned by the various dealer organizations. The usual opening night promenade will begin shortly after 8 o'clock. Two brass orchestras will be engaged for the musical features and a grand review which will herald the official opening of the big show.

Visitors from out of town began to arrive yesterday. A check of San Francisco hotels last night verified the report that thousands of motor enthusiasts from up and down the State have come to this city to view the affair.

ARTISTIC EXHIBITION.

Given under the official auspices of the San Francisco Motor Car Dealers' Association, the third annual Pacific Auto Show puts into effect as classified in the National Auto Exhibition of the country, but regardless of the national sanction, this Victor Auto Exhibition will surpass the big shows in the east, both in the number of vehicles sold and in its artistic beauty.

The ten-day display will be open daily from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 o'clock at night. The doors this evening will open at 6 o'clock.

40 DEPORTED AGITATORS TO FIGHT BACK

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—Legal action against the ranchers of the Charter Oaks district who deported about forty Russians and allied I. W. W. agitators late yesterday, was being planned by the deported men and women today. Attorney J. H. Ryckman, representing the striking orange pickers, announced.

Reports that a party of Russian Red Guard agitators is en route to Los Angeles from New York and that I. W. W. leaders are concentrating here caused the mayor to call a conference here today of army, navy, police and state authorities.

Fulfilling reports circulated at noon yesterday, about 150 orange growers and representatives of associated industries went to the so-called "Russian House" at Charter Oaks late yesterday. The Russians, who would not be tolerated longer in that district, loaded them into auto trucks and brought them into guard to Los Angeles.

A number of women, said to have been four, were among those deported.

Oak Bosses May Surprise Fans Before Opening of Season Comes to Hand

Sixty-One More Days to Opening of Season, So Why the Worrying?

By Eddie Murphy

Before the other fellow beats us to it: It is only sixty-one more days before the Coast league season starts. Yes, that does seem a long ways off, when you figure that it is just a day or two more than two months. But Mr. Oakland Fan should be happy that it is that far away, as it will allow them to hold out a little hope that Oakland will have a ball club that will be up in the running the coming season. Between now and April 8, which is the date set for the Oaks and Seals to clash in the opening game of the season, it is possible for Cal Ewing and Del Howard to step out and build up a regular ball club, and it was not so very long ago that Cal Ewing told us that the Oaks would have a sure winner this season.

It is not fair to say that the Oaks are the worst looking ball club in the league, as last season showed a couple of other teams that failed to look any stronger than Del Howard's hooligans in the field and yet those clubs have not yet been bolstered by the signing of any new material. The Oaks are far from being a bad ball club, if it be possible for Manager Del Howard to get the work out of the players that they are capable of giving. Five new men who are known to be of real Class AA value would build up the Oaks to what the fans probably want them to be. One of these five would be an outfielder, two infielders and two pitchers. With Dan Murray due back on the job again, and Honus Mitre as a first string catcher, and a possibility that Pat Kilkenny will be added to the staff, the catching department appears to be strong enough to shape up with those of other teams. Lane, Middleton and Miller are the possibilities for regular outfield jobs, with Le Bourreau, Smate and Hawks ready to fight it out for the utility role. Another fly-catcher of the "Hawks" Miller is due back that night, and his return in the circles would make the Oaks' outfit stand up with any in the league.

ARLETT WILL MAKE THEM HUSTLE FOR THEIR JOBS.

Rod Murphy is a cinch for the third base job, while Croll and Stumpf are slated to fight it out for the shortstop job and Hause, Christensen and Arlett for second base. Dallas Lucker might be figuring on having no opposition for the first base job, but you can bet that Pop Arlett will not go for the right side of the diamond, as the Oakland bosses know that he is a better guardian of the initial sack than is the new man whose real worth is yet to be found out. And again, Pop Arlett could change his mind, as he did, spending his summer months at Antioch, and the old Ewing has the promise from the Chicago Cub owners that he will be allowed to pick a few ball players from their lot before being packed back to Chicago after the spring training tour around the country. The players are to come in part payment for Speed Martin, whom the Cubs bought from the Oaks about a month ago. Maybe the old rhythmic rowdy figure, who has just clinched with the Oaks the coming season might find out otherwise before the season opens, and the fans might find before him that the Oaks are to be regular winners.

PLenty OF TIME FOR BOLSTERING THE OAKS.

You can never tell what Cal Ewing might be figuring on for the coming season, and right now he might have the whole world to himself, as new material has to play a few seasons or the boys who have visions of seeing the Oaks being the same down-trodden team that they have been for a few years past, will be disappointed over the wires in the space of a month, which is just about the space of time the Oaks will be departing for the boxes. Spring training camp, after the first few meetings, means that Cal Ewing has the promise from the Chicago Cub owners that he will be allowed to pick a few ball players from their lot before being packed back to Chicago after the spring training tour around the country. The players are to come in part payment for Speed Martin, whom the Cubs bought from the Oaks about a month ago. Maybe the old rhythmic rowdy figure, who has just clinched with the Oaks the coming season might find out otherwise before the season opens, and the fans might find before him that the Oaks are to be regular winners.

TIMES WILL FLY WHEN TEAMS BEGIN TRAINING.

After the first of March the fans will hardly notice the time passing by to the opening of the season. In March 8 most of the teams will be in their spring camps, and there are the first stories of baseball will be forgotten and the fans will have some real live news to read. The opening spring training games will be on the wires in a few days, and the bay section fans may have lived through as there will be more teams than ever before training in this vicinity. The Oaks and Seals have done

HITCHING DUELS LIKELY.

In the double-header the fans are due to witness some great pitching, as big Tom Hickox of Santa Clara University has been signed to pitch one of the games for the Oaks. He will be joined by Charlie Probst, who will pitch the other. For the Crystal Laundry team, Tom Brandon will pitch the opener and Paul Hollins the other. If the Commission Merchants are still over there before the end of the season, as it would naturally give them a game and a half lead over all others, while a double header will be played on the second day, then the pennant running for good.

At Alameda and the San Leandro Park, but one game will be played next Sunday, but the fans of those towns will be disappointed, as the two teams have at least four more games to play, and it cannot be done unless doubleheaders are sandwiched in somewhere between the two days. The results will be as follows:

HANLONS VS. SPARTANS.

The basketball game which the local basketball followers have been waiting for the last week will be played tomorrow night at the Armory, Eleventh and Market streets. The opposing teams will be

INDUSTRIAL

NEWS EAST
AND WESTBETTER PAY
IN OIL FIELDS
IS PROMISED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—The federal oil inspection board for California has completed its investigation with reference to the oil scale for the oil industry of this state, which it was stated, would be determined and announced within fifteen days.

A statement by the board, composed of L. C. Blair, chairman, G. M. Swindell and W. F. Byrne said that one of the principles discussed and virtually agreed to at the hearings held in Los Angeles, was that the oil industry of California should pay more than the best wage paid in other industries in this state for positions of equal importance and like skill, and that the board would act upon this theory in fixing the new scale.

The hearings were the result of a demand of the International Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers of America, for an increase in pay of 10 per cent, during the winter months, in exchange for existing conditions.

Workers in the Coalmines, Bakersfield and other important fields, east to number 10,000, threatened last week to strike unless they received a 10 per cent.

The union's threats to strike had and other signs of disturbance will have no influence on the board next week, it is rendered at variance with the mature judgment of its members in advance of the new scale to come.

The statement also expressed the hope that a closer alliance between the oil operators and the American Federation of Labor will endear the former to the members of the I.W.W. and others.

WHEN MEN WAR, WOMEN NAB THIEVES Says Psychologist

Is it the war that has made women brave? Has the example set by their husbands, their brothers and sweethearts in routing the deadly Hun lent them inspiration and courage in putting their patriotic lassies in equally dangerous waggon?

Mrs. Mary Roberts Riddle, of Berkeley, well-known psychologist, author and lecturer, says that it is.

But Chief of Police August Vollmer, golden rule criminologist of Berkeley, is more polite. Women, he declares, did not have to get their courage from men's deeds on the battlefield. "They have always been brave, but they had never before been put to the test," says the chief.

READY TO QUIT.

As the result of the activity of the fair residents of his home city in capturing and helping to take into custody dangerous members of the criminal profession in the past few weeks, Chief Vollmer declares he is ready to resign his job to a feminine successor.

"No longer can the woman of today be classified as 'timid,'" declares Mrs. Coolidge, in pointing with pride to the heroic acts of members of her own sex.

"Once upon a time fear and 'lady-like' timidity were born characteristics of every well-bred woman," says Mrs. Coolidge, in discussing the psychology of the long list of captures of burglars in which East Bay women have been the heroines. "But with the war we have learned along with other public duties that courage is as admirable a trait in women as in men."

PUBLICITY HELPS.

To the publicity which has attended each new act of heroism on the part of a fair captor of a burglar, Chief Vollmer attributes also the continued display of courage on the part of the college city women.

The psychologist says, "she declares she is glad to see an example of her neighbor capturing a burglar; she immediately gets on her mettle." Says the chief, "She declares if her neighbor is brave so can she be brave. This is one of the most valuable aids to the police department. It puts every person on guard."

"To the women we are usually indebted for their courage the past few weeks. Without them we probably could never have had several of our most dangerous criminals behind iron bars. My hat is off to the women of Berkeley. I'm ready to return my title in their favor."

NEW HEROINE.

A new heroine was added today to the list of Berkeley's courageous women. The latest heroine has refused to divulge her name, however, though through her warning the police were put on the trail of a

State Employment Bureaus Care For 165,323 Positions

Public employment bureaus of California during 1917-1918 filled 165,323 positions, 149,319 of which number were by men, 16,001 by women. The report of C. B. Sexton, superintendent of the bureaus, has just been filed with John P. McLaughlin, commissioner of labor. Practically all industries are represented in the placements. For the first time in the history of the free state employment service placements in agricultural work led over all others, 30,000 persons having been furnished.

Calls were placed by 93,733 employers for 186,950 men and 32,520 women. Of the 104,188 persons registering with the bureaus for employment 18,644 were women.

Bureaus are maintained by the state in Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Fresno, San Jose and Los Angeles.

In the Oakland office 27,620 men and 6522 women were placed in positions in answer to the 22,820 calls for 47,168 persons. Individuals to the number of 22,921 applied for work, of whom 15,438 were women.

San Francisco furnished positions to 56,736 men and 4299 women and 38,754 calls were made by employers for 69,752 males and 10,925 women. A total of 35,177 of whom 6788 were women, registered at the bureau for work.

Whether Hart is to definitely cast his lot with the combine has not been decided, but Grossman said a decision would be announced shortly.

Complete details of the organization will be made public within a few days.

$200,000 TO BE M'ADOO'S FILM SALARY

William G. McAdoo, son-in-law of President Wilson, who resigned as secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads because he said his cabinet salary of $12,000 a year was not sufficient on which to live, will get $200,000 as general counsel of the United Artists Association, the new combination formed by Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, William S. Hart and D. W. Griffith.

It is a well-authenticated report circulated here following an all-day conference in Los Angeles of attorneys representing McAdoo and the "Big Five of Filmdom"—as those in the combine are known.

REPORT IS CREDITED.

Although definite details of the prospective financial arrangement with McAdoo have not been officially announced, the report that his annual income from the new connection is to be $200,000 comes from reliable sources.

McAdoo is represented at the conference by his legal associates, George S. Franklin and Joseph P. Coates. The meeting is being held in the law offices of Arthur Wright, Chaplin's attorney. St. Clair, the actor's brother and manager, also attends. Dennis F. O'Brien is attorney for Miss Pickford and Fairbanks; Albert H. T. Beanchef represents Griffith and William S. Grossman of New York is Hart's attorney.

HART MAY GO IN.

Whether Hart is to definitely cast his lot with the combine has not been decided, but Grossman said a decision would be announced shortly.

Complete details of the organization will be made public within a few days.

While the conferences continue, McAdoo, who has gone to Los Angeles from his Montecito palace, is the guest of Fairbanks. Yesterday the athletic Doug entertained President Wilson's son-in-law with a Wild West rodeo in which he exhibited many "stunts." Mrs. McAdoo, Mrs. Henry Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford and several stage and screen celebrities were among the spectators.

HAWAII ASKS FUND.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—An appropriation of $50,000 to complete the western broadcast at Kihueli harbor, Hawaii, was asked of Congress by the War Department.

SAFETY IN THE AIR.

JACOB LINDNER, 35, is held pending the death or recovery of William Schwartz, a Portland furniture dealer, who was found with a fractured skull at the bottom of an air shaft in the Mint hotel at 2 o'clock this morning by Clifford Mulrenin, a guest, who heard his groans and who was awakened.

Tapers in Schwartz's pocket showed his temporary residence at the Mint hotel, where he had learned he had gone out with Lindner after Lindner had returned alone. Lindner admitted he had been with Schwartz and admitted that he had taken his money away from him on a street corner in the presence of a policeman, while Schwartz was bent on continuing a celebration following a message from his niece, Perleland, "that the money was on the way." No policeman could be found to certify Lindner's story and Schwartz is said to be dying at the central emergency hospital.

A mysterious telephone message was received at 2:30 this morning by Night

City Dredger at Work Two Months; Makes a Record

The city dredger has established a record.

For two whole months that much-abused piece of machinery has been working steadily and efficiently along the site of the naval base, according to yardage reports to Commissioner Fred Soderberg. For several years the dredger's breakdowns and other troubles have been proverbial about the city hall.

EGGS CHEESE AND BUTTER COLLAPSE

With every chicken in California apparently imbued with a new patriotic ardor and every churn working overtime and the cheese manufacturers at last listening to the voice of reason, some of the outer forts at any rate of General H. C. L. have collapsed. He still holds the meat and groceries business, but the market may begin to trouble him soon.

Poultry products show the most radical falling away from war-time impossibilities. Butter is down to under 50 cents a pound. Eggs, which but a month ago were wholesaling at around 90 cents, are close to 40 cents, the lowest figure at which they have stood since this country entered the war. Cheeses are similarly fallen down. California cheese selling down to 40 cents a pound.

Here are figures of December 6, just two months ago, and not the highest of the season at that, in the first column, and today's prices in the second column for comparison:

Dec. 6, Feb. 6.

Butter 65

Cheese 31½

The prospect with regard to other simple articles of diet is not so bright. Wholesale meat dealers say that meat prices will prevail as their present prices until March or April, when the grass-fed cattle begin to reach the market. There has been an increase in the price with the change in some centers, but the beef which has not been added to the retail price. Ham is selling wholesale around 37½ cents and bacon at about 40 cents for the best qualities.

Chief of Detectives George McLachlan coming from a man representing himself to the police force, Mr. Turner, who told McLachlan that two men had kidnapped his aged mother while they were walking together on Grand avenue near Post street, and as his father had $500 in his pocket, he feared foul play.

An investigation and tracing of the phone call revealed that it had come from the town of Winchester. Detectives Smith and McLean soon found James Blundell, a pensioner, to be the "mysterious Mr. Turner." As he could not explain the telephone message, he was taken into custody. While waiting in the hotel lobby the officers were approached by another guest, J. S. Turner, also an ex-convict, whose badly battered face bore out his story that he had been robbed while out with Binnick earlier in the evening. He

KIDNAPERS AT U.C. WIN FAME FOR FRAT MAN

BERKELEY, Feb. 6.—After being practically kidnapped by his fraternity brothers and forced to undergo tests in competition with students at colleges and universities in all parts of the country, Douglas Bardwell, senior student at the University of California, has emerged with first honors from a contest conducted by the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity, a national chemistry honor society.

This week a gold medal arrived from Washington, D. C., addressed to Bardwell which gave testimony as to his standing in the contest. Students from thirty-four colleges and universities in all parts of the country participated in the scholarship contest, which embraced particularly intricate problems of chemistry.

HONOR MAN.

Bardwell, as the honor man of the California chapter of the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity, was chosen by his fraternity brothers to represent them in the national contest, but the former demurred. Confident of Bardwell's ability to carry off honors he urged him to accept the honor, which seized him forcibly the last day on which the tests could be taken and with but two hours in which to complete the examinations. Bardwell was deposited in the university library, with a guard of students at the door to prevent his escape.

Log of Wolf Remarkable Story Of Hun Frightfulness at Sea Confession in Captain Nerger's Diary Begins In Tribune Monday

CAPTAIN TRUDGEETT

A story of vivid and absorbing interest from the very first paragraph, "The Log of the Wolf," narrative of Captain Nerger of the German seafarer that waged most ruthless warfare against non-combatant ships and with barbaric nonchalance, sank freight and passenger ships without distinction for fifteen months, will demand the attention of every reader of this paper.

It is the greatest naval story of the war!

It is the best indication of the Hun's attitude during the conflict. It bears the stamp of German chivalry.

It is one moving, thrilling incident after another.

IT IS THE MOST REMARKABLE CONFESSION OF GERMAN BRUTALITY AND FRIGHTFULNESS YET TO APPEAR.

Just as it was taken from Captain Nerger's own diary, penned during his preceding fifteen-months' cruise by Captain Robert D. Trudgett, of Alameda, captain of the Winslow, one of the vessels the Wolf took, and translated by Captain Trudgett, it will reach readers of this paper.

Clubrooms to Be Changed for Guests

Plans are being made to convert the clubrooms on the seventh floor of the Hotel Oakland into twenty guest rooms which are being prepared by an architect and work will be under way soon. The clubroom which was until the first of the year rented to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and vacated by that body in means of curtailing expenses, extends along the entire front of the building.

The room will be used for changing clothes to guest rooms should it be found necessary and the plumbing and fixtures were installed at that time. Building of partitions, doors, closets, etc., will complete the work.

Thieves Steal Two Cases of Whisky

Thirsty burglars, preparing against the coming dry season, are in possession today of the two cases of fine whisky stolen from the home of Mrs. Fannie Helms, 379 Willow street. Mrs. Helms reported her loss to the police today, stating that burglars had broken into her home, stolen the whisky, and also a set of furs.

Emmett Hodges, 510 Henry street, reports his home entered by burglars and $100 in coin stolen. Mrs. Pauline Williams, 172½ Twelfth street, reports a necklace and other jewelry stolen from her trunk in her room at her address. Hilario Garcia, Cosmopolitan hotel, reports two suits of clothes stolen from his room.

Sergeant John Keller, brother of Mrs. Al Jolson, had died "fighting like an American" even before his mother, Mrs. Conrad Keller, 340 East Fourteenth street, had begun to pack his Christmas package. When he reached his company in France, his "pal" received it with heartbreak and knew then that he would have to tell the details of the Oakland's sad death on September 28 after the physicians had done what they could to save his life from the German bullet wounds in his neck. But Sergeant R. F. Crozier's Christmas box from home did not reach him, so when it was appropriated by his command's wife from home, Crozier told of Keller's death: OVER THE TOP.

On the morning of September 28 my company went over Jerry north of Verdun. On over that huge graveyard, Dead Man's Hill, through Sept Sarge, Cuisy and into the Bois de Serres our Bri. drove the Jerry. Sergeant Keller, with headquarters platoon, was sent out to our right to flank a number of machine gun nests that were holding up our right flank. He got the machine guns and a number of prisoners but on the top of the hill, Sergeant Keller was hit by machine gun bullets through the neck.

C. R. Smith, managing director of the Standard Insurance Company, and author of the proposal, said today he was glad it had been rejected.

"My proposal was made in a spirit of dignity," he said, "but there were some who did not accept it in the same spirit."

A committee of 25 men and 29 women prominent in Alameda affairs was drafted by Smith, and accepted by the city council to participate in a "Homecoming Week" for all men and women of Alameda in various branches of the service. The men number between $90 and 1000 and there were 35 women actively engaged in war work.
